

Dave Cesark
CLUB 20 Energy Chairman

Dave holds a BS Degree in Geology from the University of Wyoming. He started his career as a Petroleum Geologist in Denver, and after a few years became an environmental consultant. He consulted for 14 years before joining Barrett Resources (now Williams) in Parachute for nearly eight years where he played a key role in the development of the Piceance Basin Project and served as the Environmental & Regulatory Affairs Lead. Currently, Dave manages Environmental & Regulatory Affairs for Mesa Energy Partners.

Dave was reappointed to the BLM's Northwest Colorado Resource Advisory Council for a second, three-year term by Interior Secretary Dirk Kempthorne. He was also unanimously elected (and re-elected) by his peers to serve as Chairman. Dave is a member of Club 20's Board of Directors and chairs the Energy Committee. Club 20 has awarded Dave with their Chairman of the Year honors and recently paid tribute to Dave with the Johnson-Theos Bridge Builder Award "For Commitment to Collaborative Problem Solving." He was also recently asked to serve on the Mesa State College Landman/Energy Advisory Board.

In addition, Dave serves on the Board of Directors for Hospice & Palliative Care of Western Colorado. He is past-president and board member of the Western Slope Chapter of the Colorado Oil & Gas Association, and past president of the San Juan Rotary Club.

Dave resides in Grand Junction with his wife of over 20 years and their three children. His hobbies center on his family and outdoor recreation and include coaching youth sports, hiking, mountain biking, camping, skiing, photography and travel.
