PL 93 2
Forest Service Budget Process

WHEREAS: Many public and private organizations and individuals have spent considerable time on various Forest Service advisory committees, trying to reach agreements on contentious issues of timber harvesting, grazing, travel management, recreational use, oil and gas exploration and transportation, and others, and

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that CLUB 20 expresses its concern about continued public involvement in this decision making process, absent some assurance that the work results at least in the agreed-upon budget being requested, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT CLUB 20 expresses its concern that the Forest Service's credibility with the public is threatened by this budget process, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT CLUB 20 strongly encourages the Forest Supervisors in Western Colorado to request full funding of all aspects of the forest management plans in which there has been public involvement.
